

Protex
mouthguards

Bespoke designs created exclusively for you...

If you partake in any form of contact sport, it is essential that you have the best level of protection for your teeth.

Without a guard, teeth can come together with such force that they can be broken - also posing a risk to the jaw. A custom-made mouthguard, made to your specification, is the safest way to ensure the safety of your smile.

Benefits of a sports mouthguard

- Spreads the forces of a direct blow around the dental arch and mouth guard
- Prevents cuts to gums, tongue and cheeks
- Reduces the risk of jaw fractures
- Reduces risk of losing teeth
- Prevents concussions.

Why choose a custom mouthguard over an off the shelf product?

There are many mouthguards available, the cheapest of which are boil and bite ones bought in shops. These are poor-fitting and inhibit the wearer's ability to talk clearly. They often encourage a gag reflex due to the guard's ability to move around too easily.

It is important for any sports person undertaking any level of contact sport that requires a mouthguard to get a custom-made mouthguard from a dentist.

Choosing your design.

Our bespoke sports mouthguards can be built to your specification. Choose from the colours below and speak to your dentist today about ordering yours.

Get creative.

In addition to plain mouthguards, we can also produce a number of patterned designs including: multi-colour, striped, glitter, marble, flags, school or club logos, novelty designs and more. Ask your dentist for full design options.

Choosing the right level of protection.

Standard Mouthguard

Offering an excellent level of protection, our dual laminate guards are suitable for all sports.

Professional Mouthguard

The highest level of protection for those partaking in contact sports, this tri-laminate guard includes an impact resistant inner layer, whilst maintaining a thinner design for comfort, and can be designed specifically for your chosen sport.

Manufactured by

Providers of splint technology, to improve health & wellbeing.

www.s4sdental.com